Kitchen Operations

- 1) Receiving Tickets: Accurately receive and organize all tickets in the order they are placed, ensuring that each order is prepared efficiently and promptly in line with customer requests.
- 2)
- 3) Preparing Ingredients: Involves washing, chopping, and slicing herbs and vegetables for service and garnishing.
- 4)
- 5) Cooking: Includes preparing dumplings, sides, and mixes.
- 6)
- 7) Plating and Serving: Entails plating and dressing the food for each ticket.
- 8)
- 9) Cleaning and Maintenance: Includes washing dishes and utensils, cleaning surfaces, sweeping, mopping, and other general maintenance tasks.
- 10)
- 11) Placing Orders: We collaborate with several suppliers on a daily and weekly basis, placing orders based on our stock levels.
- 12)
- 13) Organizing Deliveries: Involves coordinating and organizing all deliveries to ensure smooth operation.

Dumpling Cooking Guidelines:

- 1) Take the ticket and read each item carefully.
- 2) Grab the dumplings from the freezer and put them in the pan.
- 3) If there is any GF (gluten-free) order, make sure your hands are clean. (It's better to handle the GF dumplings first before moving on to the regular ones.)
- 4) Add water to the pan.
- 5) Start cooking the dumplings on high heat for the first 3 minutes, until the water is nearly evaporated.
- 6) Check the water level every 2 minutes—do not remove the lid at this stage.
- 7) Pay close attention to the sound of boiling water, the evaporation of water, the sizzling oil, and the smell—these are signs that the dumplings are almost ready.
- 8) Gradually decrease the heat after the first 3 minutes—pay attention to all pans in use.
- 9) Keep the heat at medium-low during the last 2 minutes to finish cooking

Dumpling Plating Guidelines:

1. Arrange the dumplings in the same direction on the plate for a uniform look.
2. Garnish and present the dumplings beautifully and in a structured manner.
3. Discard any burned, split, or irregular dumplings and replace them immediately.
4. Ensure all tickets are received promptly, read thoroughly, and organized in the order they were received to prioritize preparation and service.
5. Inform colleagues immediately if any orders (tickets) will take longer to prepare.

Avoid These Mistakes:

1. Do not add more water than necessary—only cover the base of the pan.
2. Do not remove the lid for at least first 3 minutes - ensure the water level is appropriated.
3. Do not leave the pan uncovered for more than 30 seconds (the steam helps cook the dumplings inside out more quickly).
4. Do not cook dumplings for more than 7 minutes (this is the maximum time needed to cook them safely) - Ensure you the right heat and no more than 16 dumplings.
7. Do not pan-fry the dumplings on high or low heat after the water evaporates
8. Do not plate or serve burned dumplings - Customer pay full price!
9. Do not use scratched, dirty, or poor-quality pans, as this affects the cooking quality.

Cleaning guideline:

- 1) Maintain a clean and hygienic kitchen by regularly washing all dishes, utensils, and surfaces.
- 2) Sweep and mop the floors at the end of each shift to prevent slips and falls. Always clean as you go to avoid build up, and sanitize all food prep areas to ensure food safety.
- 3) Dispose of trash properly and ensure waste bins are emptied regularly.
- 4) Follow a deep cleaning schedule for appliances and equipment to maintain proper functionality.
- 5) A separate cloth must be used for wiping each section. Do not mix cloths to prevent the transfer of dirt and cross-contamination.

Mixes cooking guideline

Every day, we prepare mixes to get ready for wrapping dumplings. For each mix, a detailed recipe is provided. Each recipe contains both an ingredients list and a method section.

1. Ingredient Preparation:

Carefully read through the ingredients. Gather all ingredients and place them in a designated area, ready for starting the mix.

2. Method Review:

Read the method thoroughly from start to finish. This ensures you are familiar with the entire process before beginning.

3. Mix Preparation:

After reviewing the method, return to the first step and begin preparing the mix. Follow the instructions step by step, ensuring accuracy.

4. Handling GF and Regular Mixes:

Note that the preparation methods for gluten-free (GF) and regular mixes may differ. Be mindful of these differences.

5. Special Care for GF Mixes:

For GF mixes, take extra care and follow the GF method carefully to avoid mistakes and ensure the mix remains gluten-free

Individual safety guideline

For your safety and the safety of others in the kitchen, please adhere to the following rules:

- 1) Never leave knives, graters, or blades in the sink. Wash them immediately and return them to their proper place.
- 2) When carrying a knife or hot pan, always alert others to your movements and exercise caution.
- 3) If the floor is slippery, clean it immediately to prevent accidents.
- 4) Do not leave any liquids on top of the oven.
- 5) Avoid placing hot pots filled with food in elevated areas where they could pose a risk.

Food safety guideline

- 1) Do not keep dairy products outside the fridge for extended periods.
- 2) Do not leave mixes outside the fridge after they have cooled down. Store them immediately in the fridge.
- 3) The danger zone for food is between 8°C and 63°C, meaning bacteria can start to grow rapidly, potentially contaminating the food.
- 4) Check the labels every day. For foods or ingredients with expired dates, first assess the quality. If it is still acceptable, replace the label with a new one.
- 5) Ensure that gluten-free (GF) mixes and dumplings are prepared using the correct method.
- 6) Be aware of mixes' ingredients and for allergy tickets double check everything.
- 7) Be aware of the ingredients in all mixes, and double-check everything for allergy tickets

Dress code and presentation

- 1) Uniform: Wear a clean and properly apron at all times. Ensure the apron is free from stains or wrinkles.
- 1) Footwear: Wear non-slip, closed-toe shoes for safety.
- 1) Personal Hygiene: Maintain high standards of hygiene. Hair must be tied back, and nails must be short and clean.
- 1) Accessories: Avoid wearing jewelry (especially rings, bracelets, or dangling earrings) to ensure safety and hygiene.
- 1) Appearance: Present a professional image—no excessive makeup or strong fragrances.

How to start your shift

- 1) Change into proper attire: Wear clean, comfortable clothing appropriate for working in the kitchen.
- 2) Put on your apron and hairnet.
- 3) Log into the Deputy application to officially start your shift.
- 4) Wash your hands thoroughly with soap in the designated handwashing sink in the kitchen.
- 5) You are now ready to begin your duties as a chef. Introduce yourself to the kitchen staff and confirm that you are prepared to take on your assigned tasks.
- 6) You are entitled to a 30-minute break, which includes a staff meal. Make sure to select the “start break” option in the application before leaving the kitchen, and press “end break” when you return to resume your duties

How you can impress us

At ugly dumpling, there are a few keyways you can truly stand out and impress the team.

Working efficiently: we value speed without compromising quality, specially during busy times. By managing your time well and working in sync with the rest of the kitchen team members, you help us deliver great food promptly

Attention to detail: is another way to shine. From double checking orders to ensuring each dish is perfectly presented. Your focus on the little things shows that you care about the quality of every plate that leaves the kitchen.

Being active: anticipate needs, step in to help others, and always stay on your feet, ready to assist where needed. A proactive approach keep the kitchen running smoothly.

Being Sharp: it makes a real difference. Prioritize tasks effectively, think ahead, and problem-solve on the go. Whether it's managing multiple tasks at once or quickly finding a solution to an unexpected challenge, your ability to think strategically will set you apart.
